

In-Service Academy

Alliant's School of Education offers the In-Service Academy program, which is designed to offer educators rigorous and quality practices for continued professional growth. The In-Service Academy is complementary for our graduates and is aligned with Alliant's Mission and Four Pillars to provide opportunities for professional development. Participants will receive certificates of completion.

The In-Service Academy Certificate Program is:

- Offered as a standalone, or as part of an applicable certificate
- Facilitated by experienced practitioners in the education field that provide excellent instruction and support teacher and leader growth
- Convenient
 - » Online/Hybrid
- Aligned to support teachers & leaders
- Aligned to guide teachers to be reflective
- Aligned to support the induction process (ILP)
- Designed to collect feedback on the effectiveness of the program and to determine needs of the participants

The 3-hour Certificate In-Service Academy Seminars are comprised of modules and include topics such as:

- Bullying Prevention in Our Schools
- Classroom Management: Positive Behavioral Intervention and Support (PBIS) Methods
- Response to Intervention and Multi-tiered Service Delivery Models
- Using the Guided Math Framework for Mathematics Instruction
- Higher-Order Thinking Skills (HOTS). Teachers will learn effective strategies for developing students' higher-order thinking skills while understanding the pedagogy underlying the instructional approaches. Explore high-yield strategies for questioning, problem solving, decision-making, idea generation, and creative thinking through model lessons and step-by-step how-to guides.
- Intrinsic and Extrinsic Motivation and Effects on Learner Performance
- Strategies for Promoting Community in the Elementary and Secondary Classroom
